SULLINS COLLEGE

BRISTOL, VIRGINIA

Alma Mater

On the hill stands Sullins College
'Neath fair skies of blue.
May she ever stand so proudly,
Glorious to view.

Through her halls the echoes linger
Of our college days,
Comradeship and love and courage,
Loyalty and praise.

Dearest Sullins in her glory,
Ever be our pride,
And her name we'll ever cherish,
Spread it far and wide.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
Over hill and dale,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail to thee, all hail!

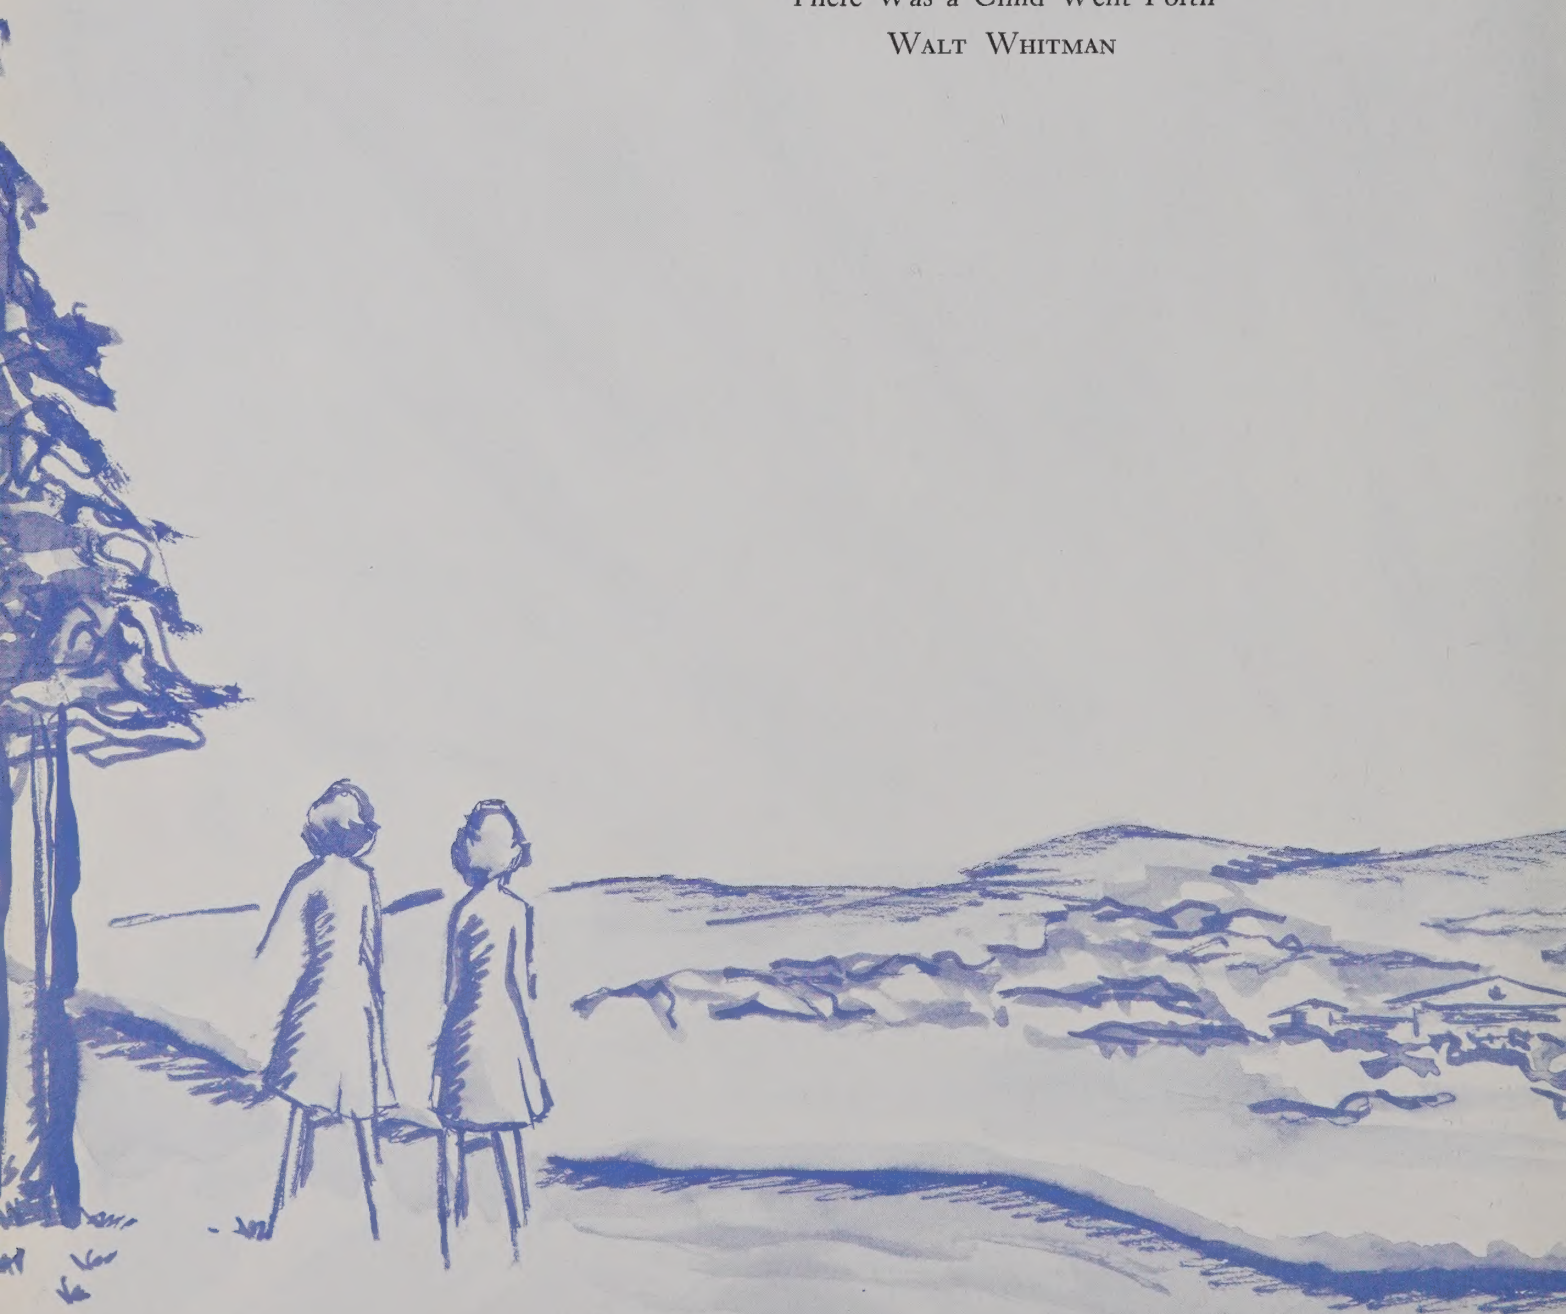
"There was a child went forth every day,
And the first object he look'd upon, that object he became,
And that object became part of him for the day or a certain part of the day,
Or for many years or stretching cycles of years."

"There Was a Child Went Forth"
WALT WHITMAN



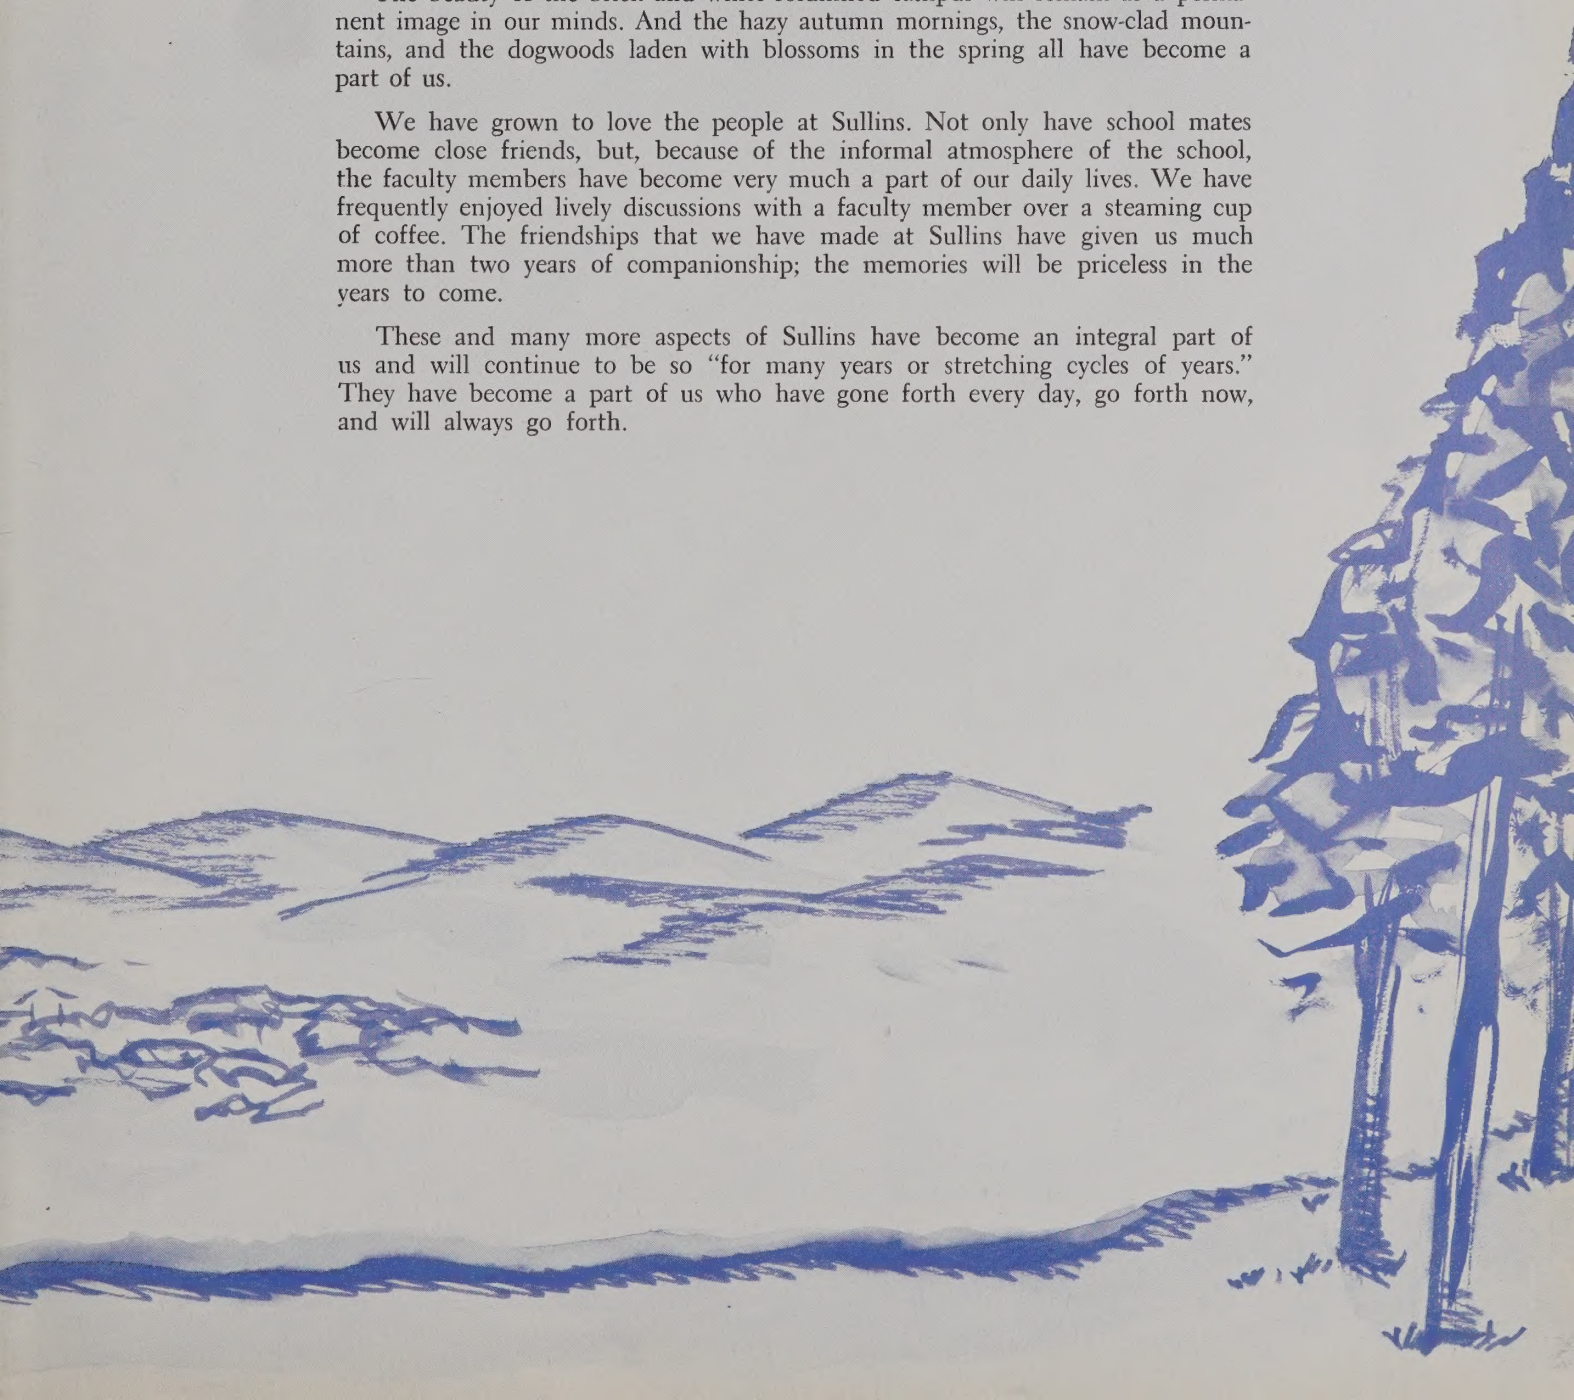
Just as the child went forth in Walt Whitman's poem, so have we as students gone forth to savor new experiences and to explore and become a part of a new horizon. We went forth and "look'd upon" Sullins for a duration of two years, and as we became a part of the school, it molded and shaped our lives for the years to come.

The wisdom we have gained from our study here has brought to us an appreciation of a broader realm of ideas, a more acute sense of values, and, for many of us, an aspiration toward higher goals.

The beauty of the brick and white-columned campus will remain as a permanent image in our minds. And the hazy autumn mornings, the snow-clad mountains, and the dogwoods laden with blossoms in the spring all have become a part of us.

We have grown to love the people at Sullins. Not only have school mates become close friends, but, because of the informal atmosphere of the school, the faculty members have become very much a part of our daily lives. We have frequently enjoyed lively discussions with a faculty member over a steaming cup of coffee. The friendships that we have made at Sullins have given us much more than two years of companionship; the memories will be priceless in the years to come.

These and many more aspects of Sullins have become an integral part of us and will continue to be so "for many years or stretching cycles of years." They have become a part of us who have gone forth every day, go forth now, and will always go forth.



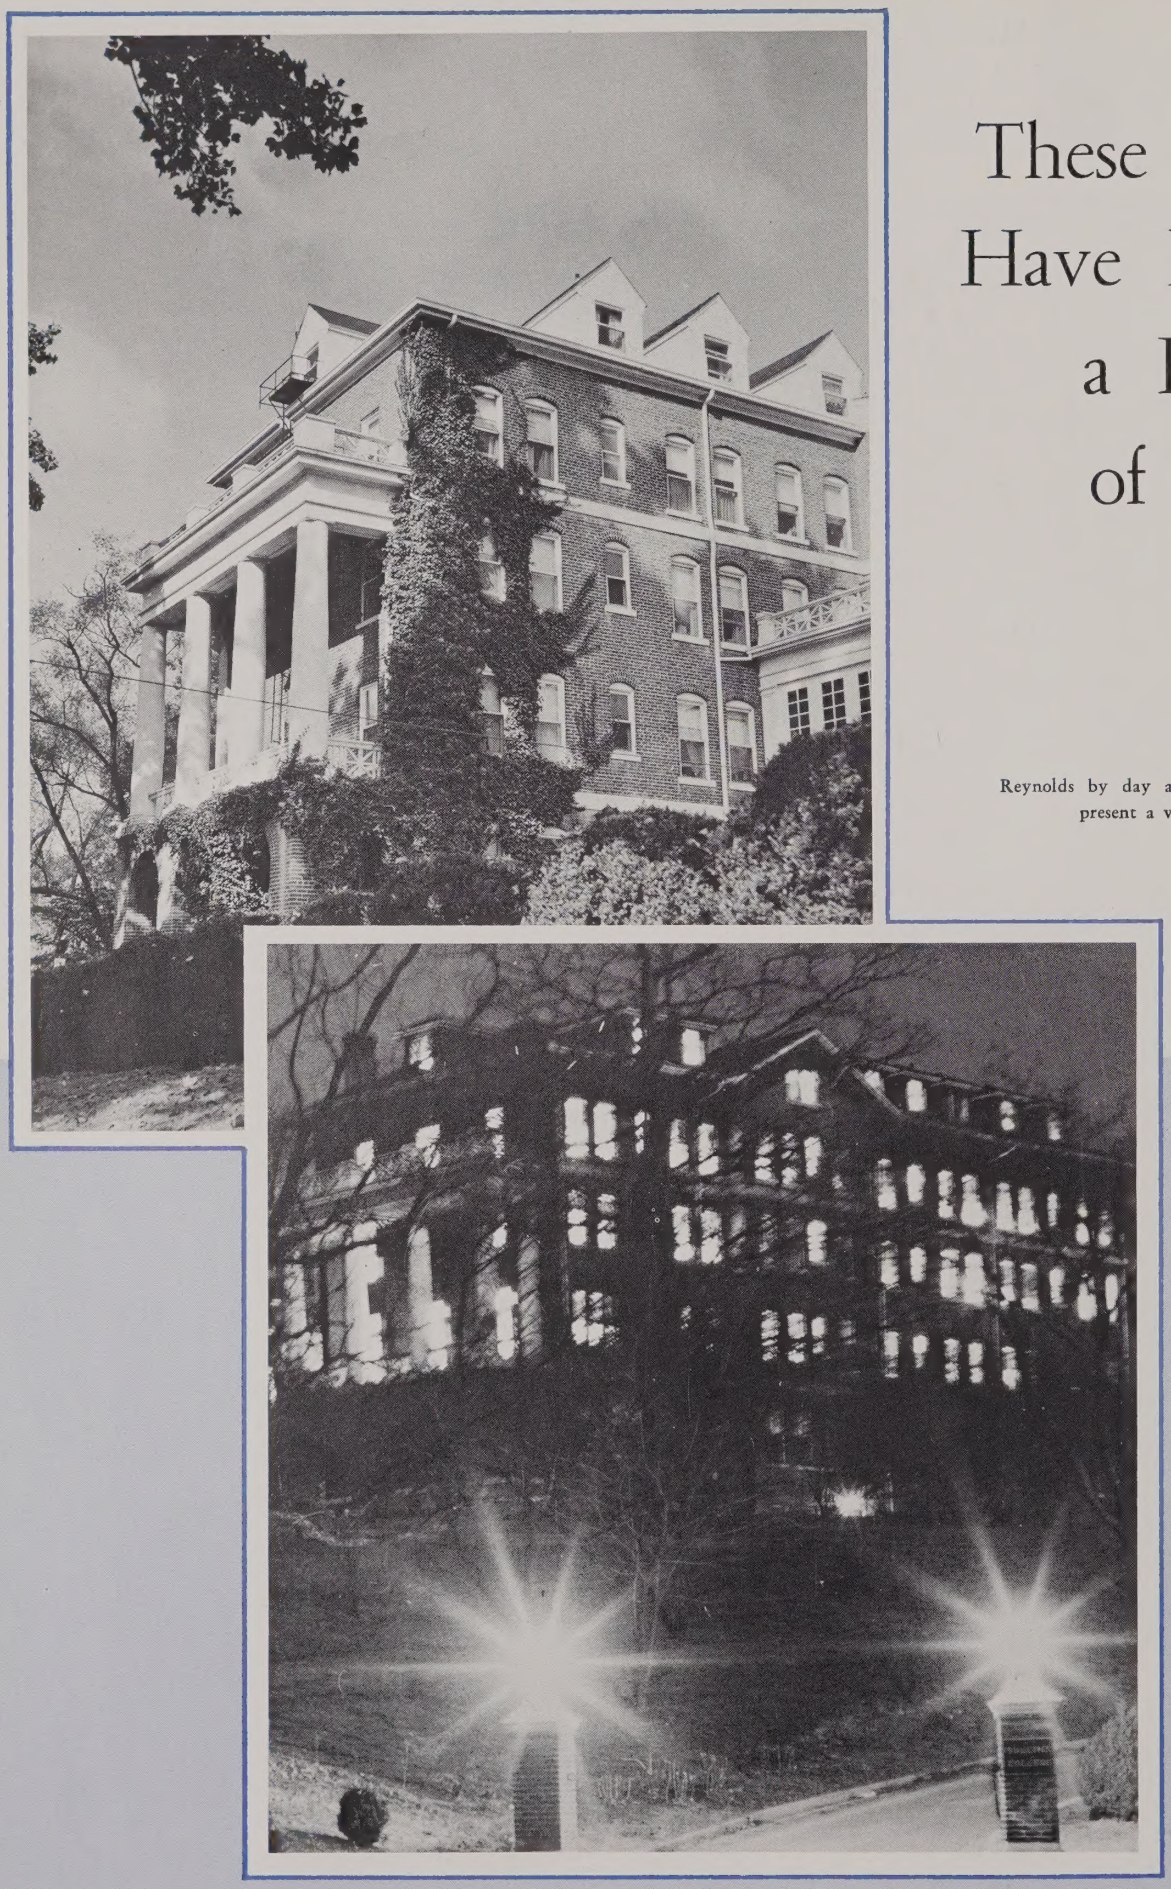
Dedication

Many members of the faculty have done a great deal toward adding to our scholastic experiences, but we feel that our 1965 SAMPLER dedicatee has especially enriched and enlivened our days here at Sullins. Through her sincere devotion to the teaching profession and to her students, she has created for us a deeper understanding of the world about us. She has strived diligently to further our liberal education, inspiring us to be even more appreciative of the literary world.

Coming to Sullins in 1944, she at first taught English and Bible in the Academy. Since 1957 her college courses in freshman English and English literature have instilled in Sullins girls a keen appreciation of the dignity and beauty of the English language. She has given even more of herself to Sullins by serving as the adviser for the Reflector, the school's newspaper. An energetic figure, she is frequently seen rushing from Metts Hall with an English literature book on one arm and a sheaf of Reflectors on the other. She is also avidly interested in ornithology and maintains feeding stations around the campus.

She has certainly become a part of Sullins that we shall never forget and, therefore, a part of us. It is with great pride that we dedicate the 1965 SAMPLER to Miss Angie Loyless.

These Scenes Have Become a Part of Us....



Reynolds by day and Holston by night present a vivid contrast.

The striking Georgian architecture on the Sullins campus is sure to captivate anyone who sees the buildings. Our dormitories — Holston, Martin, and Reynolds Halls — provide the housing quarters for the student body, while Virginia Hall houses the faculty. Metts Hall, the administration building, was completed last year and contains most of the classrooms. Classrooms are also found in the beautiful Baskervill Library.

The Baskervill Library stands out in its sparkling winter setting.

Stately Metts Hall contains classrooms and administration offices.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Nelle Parham

A shocked silence fell upon the room when, on September 11, 1964, President Martin announced to the students and faculty members assembled for Orientation Week the news of Mrs. Parham's death. In those first moments of unbelief, no one could say anything at all.

Mrs. Nelle Parham, who came to Sullins as a residence counselor in 1957, became director of student activities in 1959, and served as acting dean of women from 1962 until the time of her illness in the spring of 1964, was beloved by everybody at the college.

Hers was a charming and buoyant personality that appealed to young people and to people of her own age. She had high ideals and the courage to defend them, speaking with frankness when it was important to do so, but with a simple directness that never gave offense. Warm of heart and brave of spirit, she still lives for those who loved her at Sullins.

Classes

We Have Become a Part of One Another....

Sophomores

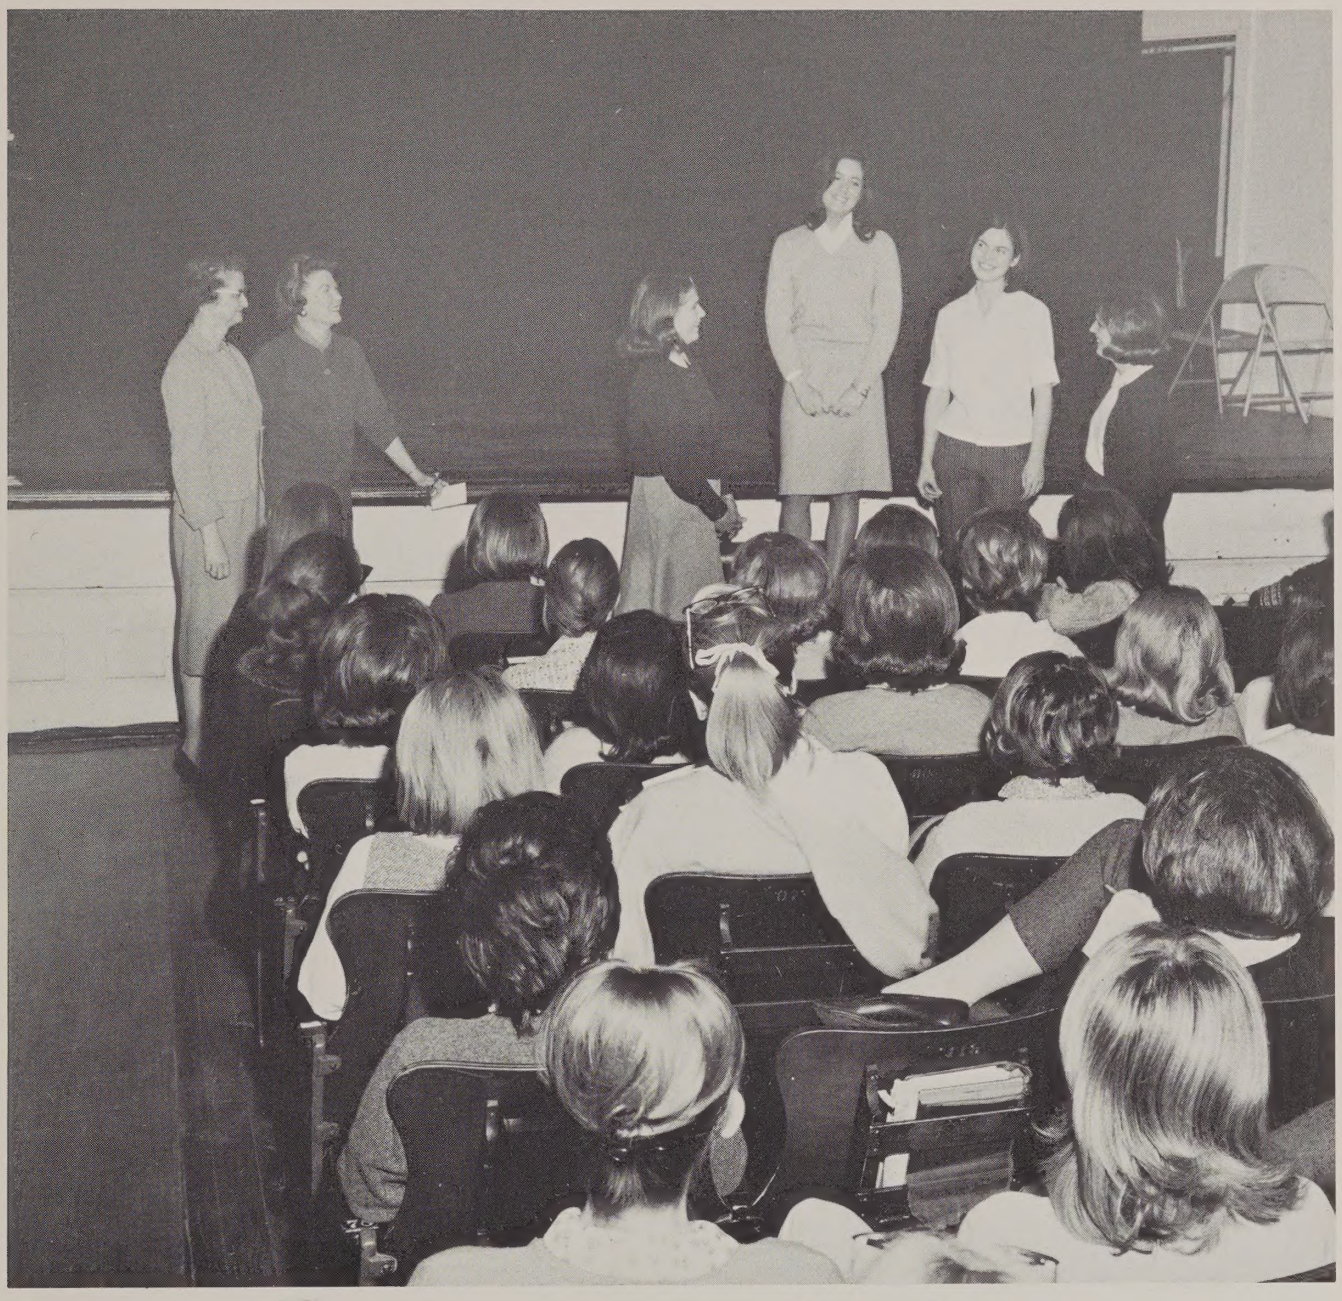
Now as graduation is drawing near, we sophomores have begun to look back over our two years at Sullins. We can see ourselves reflected in the Freshman Class and in the college itself. Most of all, however, we can see how much Sullins has become a part of us.

We recall the anticipation of returning to this campus with our classmates, the faculty, and the freshmen—all of whom joined together to make the year a success in all respects. The Orientation Committee got the year off to a good start by combining their energies to get the freshmen acquainted with Sullins and to make them feel at home.

Soon classes began and we realized that we were really sophomores with all those privileges! Each of us added something to the year—whether it was in leadership, scholarship, friendship, sportsmanship, or talent. With all these contributing factors, we held many successful banquets, dances, and all-night studying sessions during the fall. Two highlights were Fall Frolics and the annual powder puff football game, which helped to create a close relationship between the two classes. Then, of course, there were those weekends to V. P. I., U. N. C., or W. & L. we managed to fit in between all our class work, labs, play practices, and tests.

All too soon Thanksgiving was here. With our return we found ourselves involved in the Christmas activities: the Freshman Banquet, the announcement of the Mardi Gras Queen, the concert by the choir, caroling, the C. R. O. Christmas Party for underprivileged children, and the closed curtain service. All these events put us in the mood for Christmas.



The announcement of the May Queen and May Princess was a highlight of the year for the Sophomore Class.

With the arrival of the New Year, we settled down for the coming brain-racking exams. Having those behind us, we looked forward to the festivities of Mardi Gras. We were very proud to see members of our class reigning over the events.

Before spring vacation, we elected the May Queen and her court, the Mirror Girl, and the SAMPLER Superlatives. Several of us made Phi Theta Kappa.

Suddenly graduation was upon us and we had but a few days remaining as students at Sullins. Sadly we saw our two wonderful years coming to a close, years in which our class contributed much and received much.

We will carry with us always the knowledge, the friendships, and the maturity we have gained here. Sullins and everything included in it will forever be a part of the graduating class of 1965.

Welcome to Sullins.

Freshmen

What does it mean to us freshmen to be a part of Sullins and a part of one another? It has meant gaining widening fields of knowledge, making friendships that will last a lifetime, maturing and being able to accept greater responsibilities, getting acquainted with college life, and many other things. We are united like all the states from which we come. This bonding has brought many memories to cherish always.

The first week at Sullins meant a night at Camp Sequoya which was cold in temperature but warm in spirit, with the smiling faces of sophomores and the music of the Cotton Pickers. The rest of the week was filled with getting settled with our roommates, taking tests, going to Hut parties, planning our schedules, and starting our first college classes. Soon our sense of confusion began to disappear.

During fall quarter we really became a part of the school. We endured Rat Week together, beat the sophomores in the Powder Puff Football Game, took unforgettable weekends to V. P. I. and U. Va., attended "mixers" at the Hut, and got our grades and discovered we had passed social science.

In the second quarter we elected a very capable group of girls as our class officers. Then we passed time quickly before Christmas with such events as the Freshman Banquet, the announcement of the Mardi Gras Court, the Choir Concert, and the Children's Christmas Party with Mr. Olsen starring as Santa.

After the holidays we settled down to all-night cramming sessions for exams. That week passed quickly, and we devoted all our attention to making Mardi Gras a memorable weekend. We also enjoyed the trip to Annapolis during the third quarter.

Mardi Gras was one of the most outstanding events of our freshman year.

Our final quarter meant for us a spring break to Bermuda or home, the announcement of the new Cotton Pickers, the election of officers for next year, the Kentucky Derby, and, as we go to press, the anticipation of exams and commencement weekend.

Thinking back on the year, our fondest memories are of the priceless moments with each other: the "mixers," the hours spent at the Hut over cinnamon toast and coffee, the 11:30 curfew, the continuous marathon runs, the awaiting pond, and talks with the faculty.

All of these experiences have contributed to making us a part of Sullins. We look to our summer vacation with mixed emotions, for we know we will miss our friends here at Sullins. Already we are looking forward to being the leaders of the school next year as the Class of 1966.

The Presidents' Council is the legislative and administrative branch of the Student Government. Its chief functions are to organize and coordinate the activities of various campus clubs, to supervise elections for all campus officers, and to interpret the suggestions of all students.

The Council, composed of the presidents of all organizations, vice-presidents of the student body and Judicial Board, and the social chairmen of the classes, promotes school spirit.

The Presidents' Council is responsible for planning the social calendar each year. This year, the Council sponsored our "Fall Frolics" weekend, including a program by the New Journeymen. In addition, they have sponsored several informal dances.

The judicial branch of Student Government at Sullins is the Judicial Council. Its major purposes are to encourage each girl to carry out the Honor Code and to develop in every girl a responsibility toward good social, moral, and academic behavior.

The Council is composed of the President, Vice-President, three members of the Sophomore class, and two members of the Freshman Class. The Council also includes a Faculty Advisory Board, which meets with them.

Using the Honor Code as a basis, the faculty and students on the Council work to promote high ideals of honor in all phases of student life. In this way, the Council acts not only as a disciplinary organization, but also in an advisory capacity to all the girls.

An important part of college life here at Sullins, as in every school, is the successful functioning of the House Council. This Council is a subsidiary wing of the Judicial Council and is responsible for smoothing out the everyday problems that come with living and working together.

The House Council consists of representatives from Holston, Martin, and Reynolds. Each semester the classes elect a freshman and a sophomore from each floor to represent them on the Council. These representatives are also responsible for taking room check, keeping quiet and order on the halls, and checking the rooms for cleanliness and order.

Sampler Staff Develops Idea

Through many hours of diligent work, the Sampler Staff has tried to combine words, photographs, and ideas to create a composite publication of less than two hundred pages representing a year of our lives. By leafing through the pages of the Sampler, we discover that the theme stemming from the poem "There Was a Child Went Forth" by Walt Whitman, aptly describes the contribution we have made to Sullins and what it has given us in return.

Suggested By Whitman Poem

In September the 1965 SAMPLER was only a disorganized, inexperienced staff groping for ideas. But by meeting the countless deadlines, struggling over tricky write-ups, selling ads to finance the book, and even sponsoring a dance and banquet, we became a workable unit cooperating in every way. Without the supervision of our sponsor, Miss Doris Hunt, the SAMPLER could not have become a successful recollection of the happenings throughout the year.

Reflections of Campus Life

Susan and her assistants work on the dummy.

Carol and her staff get papers ready for mailing.

The Reflector, voice of the campus, reports all of the major happenings here at school. Composed of both freshmen and sophomores, the staff works hard during the year to gather news, editorials, and interesting stories and pictures for the paper. This is a wonderful opportunity for all those students interested in writing to express themselves and to show their talents.

Among some of the honors that the Reflector has received through the years are those from the Associated Collegiate Press, of which it is a member.

The paper not only puts out one edition a month, but also sponsors a banquet, a dance, and the Mirror Girl Contest. The winner of the contest, Kitty Kennedy, received the trophy at an assembly program in March.

Campus Religious Organization

OFFICERS

Pettus Frazier, President; Anne Moody, Secretary; Ravenel Richards, Treasurer; Frances Shetter, Vice-President.

The Campus Religious Organization is non-denominational and provides spiritual leadership to the Sullins campus. Its purposes are to afford the spiritual inspiration needed on any campus and to offer each student an opportunity to give unselfish service to others.

The Council consists of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and five chairmen. It meets twice a month with Miss Gregg to discuss projects and to plan programs for the year.

The C.R.O. Council sponsors many religious programs. They select inspiring speakers for our Friday morning chapel programs and set up special "closed curtain" services for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter.

One of the highlights of the year was the Christmas party for underprivileged children, sponsored by the C.R.O. This occasion gave us an opportunity to feel the true spirit of Christmas by making the children happy.

Mr. Knipe gives Mary a big smile as he congratulates her at the Phi Theta Kappa initiation.

The scholastic highlight of the term was the Phi Theta Kappa initiation on April 7, following spring vacation. Membership in the only Greek letter organization on the Sullins' campus signifies academic excellence throughout the student's freshman and sophomore years. This year eleven sophomores were asked to join this honorary society for two-year colleges, the counterpart of Phi Beta Kappa for four-year institutions. The initiation ceremony was conducted by President Martin and Mr. Knipe and was followed by an address by Mrs. Marshall Hogan. To honor the new members, the annual Phi Theta Kappa banquet was held that evening.

One of the three honorary organizations on the Sullins Campus, the Science Club requires of its members a B average in math and science. Its purpose is to promote an interest in math and the natural and physical sciences in order to stimulate the student in these fields.

The activities for the term included the banquet, at which each newly initiated member was presented with the traditional red rose, and the sponsoring of speakers for club meetings and chapel programs. The club also dedicated two memorial trees to Mrs. Nelle Parham and Mrs. W. E. Martin.

The Campus Chest is organized for the sole purpose of conducting the annual charity drive, the only request for contributions to charity during the year.

Contributions are made to such organizations as the Heart Fund, Red Cross, Cancer Drive, and the Crippled Children's Fund. One of the most interesting projects from the students' point of view is the "adoption" of a Japanese child through the Christian Children's Fund.

In addition to their major function of collecting donations, the members undertake projects, such as selling food on the halls, to earn expense money. The organization is open to all students.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, otherwise known as the Club Pasa Tiempo, is in its first year as a recognized organization. The purpose is to further familiarize the members of the club with Spanish culture and to give them a deeper understanding of the Spanish-speaking people, which in turn would possibly lead to the improvement of international relations.

Two meetings a month are usually scheduled, one business and the other cultural. The tirtulias (coffee sessions with discussion), at which a speaker is sometimes present, are held at the Hut. The club also sponsored the El Greco exhibit in Metts Hall in the spring, as well as a dance.

A B average, outstanding ability, and a high interest in art are the requirements met by all Student Art Guild members. A highly selective group, the members are chosen and initiated in the spring of their Freshman year. Aside from many service projects, the S.A.G. strives to further the understanding and appreciation of art on the campus.

In March the Guild sponsored a banquet based on the culture and heritage of the Hawaiian Islands. The original decorations and unique entertainment will long be remembered. The group also sponsored all of the exhibitions in the Hut and Library, including the prominent graduation exhibition at the end of the year. Functioning also as a service organization, the S.A.G. created the striking scenery for the Mardi Gras and Dance Department productions.

The Sullins Players, our theatre group on campus, presents a series of classical and modern plays throughout the year. The first production presented this year was Firebugs by Max Frisch. During the spring, the players presented six plays from 27 Wagons Full of Cotton by Tennessee Williams. Both presentations were directed by Mr. Olsen, the club's sponsor.

Another popular part of the club is the Sullins Verse-Speaking Choir. This part of the club gave a special Christmas program in chapel. The program included "King John's Christmas" by A. A. Milne and a special piece written by Mr. Olsen. The Choir did a playlet, "The Recognition Scene" from Anastasia, in the Fine Arts Festival.

The Sullins Players sponsored a series of movies on campus, to encourage and develop the students' taste in movies. The series included such films as Raisin' in the Sun and David and Lisa. The club also sponsored Peanut Week, which enabled girls to know one another better.

The thirty-seven voiced Sullins Choir opened its full season of activities in December when it presented the annual Christmas Concert. The group, beautifully attired in identical black formals, offered a varied program of sacred and secular Yuletide music to a "standing-room only" audience. Mary Beth Rainero, Bristol Sullins alumna, assisted in the accompaniment of two numbers, playing the flute.

In February, the Choir presented the second half of the gala Mardi Gras program. Following the Dance Department's Tchaikovsky ballet, the Choir offered selections from the Broadway musicals West Side Story, The Music Man, Oliver, and Hello, Dolly! Soloists with the Choir included Don Hyatt, tenor; Edwin Miller, bass; Sands Marshall, boy-soprano; Richard Olsen, bass; and Laurie Watters, soprano. Appearing in the Hello, Dolly! number was dancer Sandra Wolsfeld. Featured trumpet soloist was Hamp Richardson in "Summertime" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Choir

A highlight of the year for the Choir was its trip to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee, in April. On Palm Sunday the Sullins and Sewanee Choirs presented a sacred concert in All Saints Chapel. The first group consisted of works by Bach by the Sullins Choir. The remainder of the program featured the combined Choirs singing Bach's "Cantata No. 118" and the Vivaldi "Gloria." Soloists in the "Gloria" were Donna Forbes and Susan Matthews.

In May, the opening program for the Sullins Fine Arts Festival was a repeat of the Sewanee-Sullins concert. The program was presented in Bristol at the Central Presbyterian Church. The Choirs were accompanied by organ and chamber orchestra.

The Sullins singers concluded their most successful year with a spring concert during Commencement week, in the Sullins Chapel, and with selections which were sung at the baccalaureate service held at State Street Methodist Church.

The Choir gave one of its outstanding performances at Mardi Gras.

The combined Sullins and Sewanee Choirs present a sacred concert.

Dance Club

Dance Club membership consists of all students taking dance. The active work includes performing, keeping the school interested in the department, and promoting creativity.

Major performances this year have been at the Fine Arts program, Mardi Gras, the Arts Festival, and May Day. Some of the dance students did a ballet to Chopin as a contribution to the Fine Arts program on Romanticism. The theme of Mardi Gras was based on the Russian Imperial Court. Mr. Gordon Peavy, of New York City, was guest soloist.

At the Arts Festival, the dance majors adopted as their theme "The World's Fair," taking dances from pavilions of Spain, Hungary, and other countries. The May Day ballet, an expansion of the theme of the Arts Festival performance, brought to a conclusion a successful year.

The Dance Club was very honored to have a world-famous dance instructor, Joseph Levinoff, teach two classes this year.

Cotton Pickers

The cute freckle-faced Cotton Pickers, with their red-checked shirts, blue denim overalls, and red scarves, will always be remembered as a wonderful part of the never-ending Sullins tradition.

This peppy group plays such unique instruments as spoons, a washboard, clickers, ukes, a tambourine, bongos, and even a washtub and broom.

When they start off with "We Are" and proceed to such things as "Forget Him," "Cherry Pie," "First Time," and many more, we are sure that these girls are really the official morale boosters of the school.

The "Pickers" are not only a favorite of Sullins but of the whole Tri-Cities area. They play for such events as political conventions, dinners, benefit shows on television, and numerous other occasions.

Miss Montgomery, although a new member of the faculty this year, is as much a part of the group as any one of the "Pickers."

Sports of various kinds have always been available for the fun and enjoyment of all Sullins students. The Women's Recreation Association organizes many athletic events and also provides an intramural program for both individual and team sports.

A "powder puff" football game kicked off the fall season. Freshmen and sophomores met on a cold, wet field in friendly rivalry. The game was complete with decorated goal posts, faculty cheerleaders, band music, and a water girl—Mrs. Elam. A hard-earned dinner and then a "Picker" party, enjoyed by many hungry players and spectators, followed the game.

Association

The Christmas season brought W. R. A. activities too. The rather warm, misty night did not dampen the spirits of a single caroler. The girls walked to the faculty homes, singing Christmas carols at each stop along the way. A delicious treat of hot chocolate and cookies was enjoyed when the carolers returned to the college.

The W. R. A. spring banquet climaxed the activities of the year. Here letters and trophies were presented to the girls who had earned points in the intramural, individual, and team sports and to other outstanding participants in the athletic program.

The spirit of the faculty cheerleaders spurs us on to victory?

Hoofprints Club

This year's Hoofprints Club has been active and enthusiastic. With the addition of a modern, spacious indoor ring, we have been able to carry on effective schooling, come rain or snow.

The expert supervision of Miss Hatcher has helped us all to improve our horsemanship and increase our knowledge of riding in general.

The Hoofprints Club has sponsored a formal dance and presented an exhibition consisting of green, working, and open hunter classes, along with special shows of five- and three-gaited saddle horses. One of the biggest events of the year was the trip to the Maryland Hunt Cup in April.

"Introducing King Laddie and Queen Francie."

With the first sign of early spring, the horses' winter coats began to shed off, and the real work started. The hunters were schooled over higher jumps, and the saddle horses were reshod to increase their action and were placed on a tighter working schedule. By early May the horses and riders were ready for their first show of the season. The Blountville, Tennessee Horse Show had many of its trophies and ribbons claimed by Hoofprints Club riders and their mounts. The climax of the club's year was the annual Spring Horse Show which took place over Graduation Weekend.

The new indoor riding ring provides a spacious area for us to try out our skills.

Hockey

This fall one of the centers of continuous activity was the athletic field, which acted as the site for a flurry of hockey sticks. Each afternoon at 4:30 a group of girls, armed with protection, sportsmanship, and an abundance of school spirit, made their way down the hill. Although the two games with Marion ended in defeat, the girls' fun during play and afterwards at Howard Johnson's amply made up for their loss.

Basketball

A sense of success and pride in a job well done climaxed an exciting season of Sullins basketball. The 1965 season was marked by enthusiasm and determination on the part of both players and supporters. The team displayed good sportsmanship and gained in skill as they fought hard for winning points. It was clearly shown in the 73-72 game with V. Practice makes perfect!

Unless it is raining or snowing, tennis classes are held. The tennis tournament in the spring offers great competition for the skilled players. Many players (good and bad) are seen on the courts enjoying an afternoon of tennis in warm weather.

Outdoor Sports

The correct hand grip is taught by Pam.

Following a whizzing little white ball around the Bristol Country Club Golf course is a favorite pastime of some Sullins Susies. Learning about "birdies," "bogies," and "pars" and practicing the correct stance help the girls improve their game.

Need some vigorous activity? Try soccer!

Soccer plays an important part in our fall sports. A fast-moving game that requires strenuous exercise, soccer is very similar to hockey. Many girls participate in practice after classes are over for the day, even when the field is slightly muddy.

Swimming, which every girl has the opportunity to enjoy, is one of the outstanding sports in school. There are beginning, intermediate, senior lifesaving, and instructors' classes. The annual intramural swimming events are real favorites.

Swimmers perfect their kicking with Betty's supervision and advice.

Indoor Sports

In Miss Montgomery's folk dancing classes, the girls really keep on their toes and keep their eyes open as they listen to and follow the dance steps played by the record—and have loads of fun doing it! They learn dances from many countries.

Folk dancers learn new steps.

Badminton is enjoyed by some of the smaller physical education classes. The game is a great relaxer because it is a comparatively mild one and does not require strenuous exercise. Girls frequently play badminton at night.

The birdie goes over!

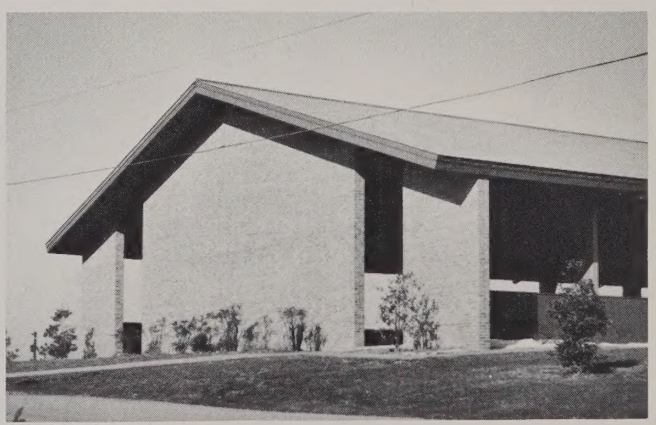
Holston Lake and the pool provide recreation during the spring and fall months.

The Island

Camp Sequoya, more familiarly known as "The Island," is an excellent place for a weekend of relaxation and fun needed after a busy week at school. Almost every Saturday, a number of girls can be seen in the Volkswagen with Miss Montgomery on their way to the Island.

Our first trip to the Island was during Orientation Week. When we arrived, we were entertained with a fashion show. After the show, we left to explore the varied and excellent facilities, which include sailing, water skiing, tennis, archery, and canoeing. The beautiful gymnasium, used for basketball and volleyball, was also available. After supper, everyone went to the gym to see the skits by representatives from the different halls and to hear the Pickers.

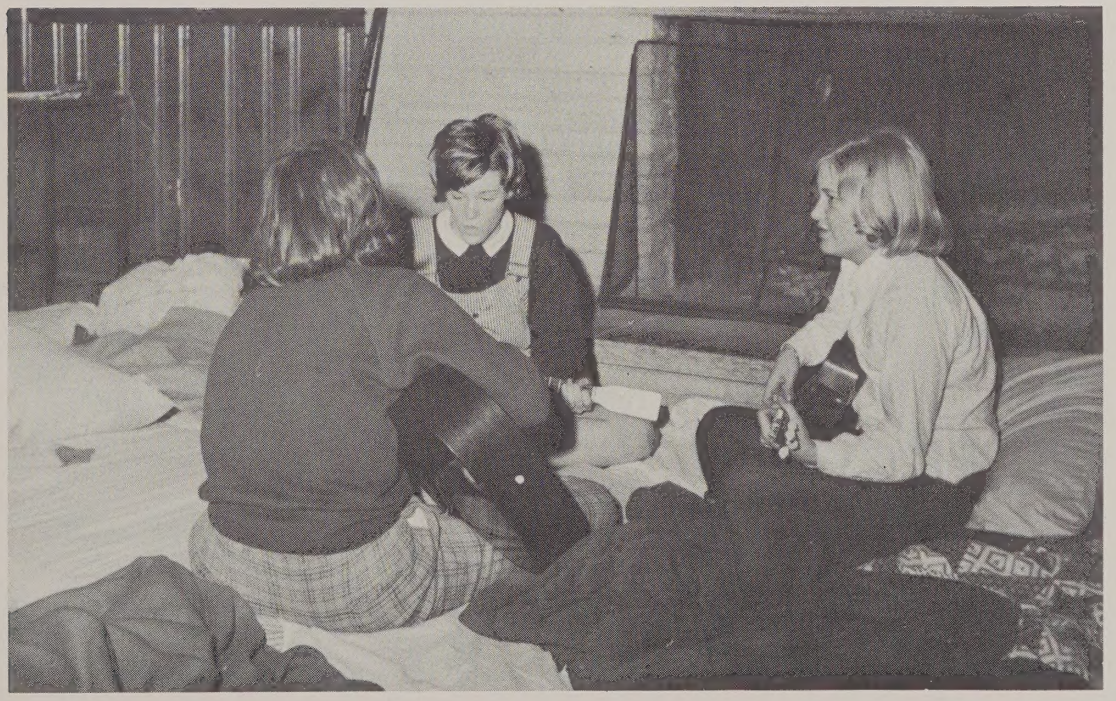
The lodge is a favorite gathering place.



The open-air gymnasium is an ideal spot for basketball and volleyball.

It's time for a weekend of fun; so we head for the Island.

When the weather is warm, sailing is enjoyed on weekends.



Playing ukes by the fireplace is a favorite pastime.

Fall Experiences

These sophisticated freshmen seem to be really in the spirit of Rat Week.

It's no wonder the freshmen were scared when the sophomores came screaming into the chapel.

Rat Week was definitely one of the highlights of the fall! The sophomores got things rolling with a surprise attack on the freshmen one gloomy October evening. For the next three days the freshmen proved their talents, especially in the fields of air raids, writing letters on various subjects to sophomores' boy friends, and dressing up in the worst possible outfits.

The freshmen got back at the sophomores in the annual Powder Puff Football Game. The two teams showed that Sullins has very versatile football players. Then, if you add together the cheerleaders, especially the faculty ones, the coaches, and the cheering crowd of girls, you find a school closely united and filled with spirit.

No one could duplicate the exact precision of the two football teams.

The sophomore cheering section seems to be filled with mixed emotions about the game.

During the Holidays

The special presentations by the fine arts department added merriment to the season. The first official performances of the Choir and Dance Department were a delightful Christmas treat for us all. There were only a few days left, and all looked forward to the C. R. O. Christmas Party.

After the Freshman Banquet, the dancers entertained us.

While we watched our children climb the stairs to Santa's lap, our eyes filled with tears. How lucky we were to be able to share in something like this at Christmastime! The questions "Will he like it? Will it fit?" vanished as the bright-eyed, ecstatic children tore into their gifts and put on their new clothes. We attended the impressive closed curtain service, finished our last minute packing, and before we knew it, we were saying hurried goodbyes. We were going Home!

Wonder who is having more fun—Santa or the little boy?

"Cowboys and Indians—Oh Boy!"

Frenzied Hours and Lighter

Are you studying all those at once?

Who is helping whom?

The grind of studying for exams began soon after we returned from the Christmas holidays. It was a struggle to settle down after three weeks of glorious freedom, but we managed to get back to the books when we realized how quickly the remainder of the semester was passing. The gaiety of Christmas was contrasted by a somber stillness in the halls.

The bell of doom tolled, and exam week was upon us. Red flags marked every door, and "Shhhhh! We're trying to study!" was the phrase of the week. There was no time for hair rolling or makeup, and the uniform seemed to be wheat jeans and sweat shirts. Lights burned all night and we existed on black coffee and cigarettes. Once again we resolved never to get behind in our studies again.

That's one way to stay in the same place for a while!

All that work—and still she smiles!

Moments of Exam Week

The Hut Party was a welcome break during exam week.

Of course, we couldn't study all the time. Our breaks, although they were few, provided a breathing period from the intensive cramming and gave us a chance to relax. Mrs. Barrow's party at the Hut consisted of the juke box on free play, soft drinks, and potato chips. Laughter and singing dispelled the exam week blues in no time.

The Cotton Pickers played for us one night, and the old familiar songs cheered us even more. "Only one more—this is my last!" was beginning to be a familiar sound. Our thoughts turned toward exam break plans. Whether we planned to catch up on sleep or relieve built-up tensions in other ways, one important thing remained. Exams were over!

Some faculty members took a short break from paper grading.

Potato chips, anyone?

KITTY KENNEDY
Mirror Girl, 1965

The winner of the Mirror Girl Contest, which is sponsored by our school newspaper, must exemplify the following qualities: Reliability, Efficiency, Friendliness, Loyalty, Enthusiasm, Charm, Trustworthiness, Originality, and Responsibility, the first letters of which spell Reflector. Kitty Kennedy, our 1965 Mirror Girl, is the ideal Sullins student in all these characteristics. Chosen by the student body in the spring, Kitty has certainly met all the requirements.

Each year Sullins sends a student representative to the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia. Our 1965 Apple Blossom Princess was lovely Dariel Saunders from Winston-Salem, North Carolina. With her flashing smile and long chestnut hair, Dariel made a representative we were proud to send.

FRANCES SHETTER
Mardi Gras Queen

After exam week, the time seemed to melt away; and Mardi Gras became a reality instead of just a topic of conversation. But even though we looked forward to it with great anticipation, Mardi Gras, 1965, was even more outstanding than we ever dreamed it could be.

The night of the presentation marked the official beginning of Mardi Gras, and it was truly a night we shall never forget. We held our breath expectantly as each member of the Mardi Gras Court, gowned in pale aqua, traveled across the stage to make her deep curtsy. The excitement mounted as the pages took their places for the presentation of the Princess and the Queen. As her name was called, Princess Lucy Bennett, a petite brown-eyed blonde from West Palm Beach, Florida, was presented amid thundering applause. The audience was hushed for a moment, and finally our Mardi Gras Queen, Frances Shetter of Richmond, Virginia, was presented for our approval. Our approval was given wholeheartedly, for Frances was, in every sense of the word, a queen. As she floated across the stage, her regal beauty seemed to radiate to every corner of the auditorium.

Gras

The performances of the Dance Department and the Choir served as tributes to the Queen, the Princess, and the Court. Under the direction of Madame Besa Sklarsky, the Dance Department presented "Ballet Imperial" to the Tchaikovsky Concerto in B-Flat Minor. Our very accomplished ballerinas and guest performer, Mr. Gordon Peavy, whirled and pirouetted through a magnificent performance. The costumes, scenery, and dramatic lighting combined with the graceful elegance of the dancers to inscribe an indelible impression upon our memories.

The magnificent backdrop created by the Art Department especially for the performance framed the Choir as they sang with their usual overwhelming ability. They sang songs from Broadway hits, and the skyline backdrop suited their performance. Selections from West Side Story, Oliver, The Music Man, and Hello, Dolly! were enlivened with dance numbers, soloists, and other special effects. How can we forget little seven-year-old Sands Marshall "stealing the show" with his solo from Oliver?

The finale, it seemed, was over before we could settle down in our seats to listen.

The Choir added a great contribution to Mardi Gras.

Saturday dawned, and we didn't have a spare moment. Between pressing dresses, rolling hair, and fixing nails, we tried to attend every Mardi Gras function. The morning featured an open house in the Hut followed by open house in the dorms. That afternoon the annual "Shinan-agins," a student-sponsored program, was the main attraction. This event starred the especially talented Sullins girls and was climaxed by a sparkling performance by the Cotton Pickers. Afterwards we attended a reception at President Martin's. Teachers and parents had a chance to meet.

With the Finale, the dancers bring to an end a beautiful and well-presented performance.

Our Gala Weekend

The receiving line gives everyone a warm welcome to the Mardi Gras Ball.

Finally the moment we had been waiting for was here—the grand finale of the weekend, the Mardi Gras Ball. The General Shelby Hotel was the setting, and the Billy Knauff Orchestra provided the lilting music. This last official presentation of the Mardi Gras royalty was an impressive one. Fathers beamed and dates smiled proudly as they escorted the lovely young ladies through the ribboned aisle. The after-party with the Royal Knights at the Holiday Inn was the perfect end to a perfect weekend that we'll never forget.

The lilting music of the Billy Knauff Orchestra is enjoyed by all the dancers.

Queen Frances Shetter is once again presented to the guests.

The May Princess and the Court

May Day, as well as Mardi Gras, was one of the biggest social events of the year. It was held two days before graduation in the Sylvan Theater. The main purpose of the ceremony was to honor the sophomores one last time before they left the Sullins campus.

Queen Bonnie Clark, Princess Lynne Johnson, and the twenty lovely members of the Court were presented to happy students and proud mothers and fathers.

Pageant

On May Day the Dance Department put on its final performance of the year, in honor of the May Queen, the Princess, the Court, and all the parents here for the graduation exercises. The performance, which was held in the Sylvan Theater, was an expansion of the theme of the dance performance in the Fine Arts Festival. The dancers added to the festivities and helped make May Day a memorable occasion.

On a sunny spring day, the lovely members of the May Court get ready to be presented.

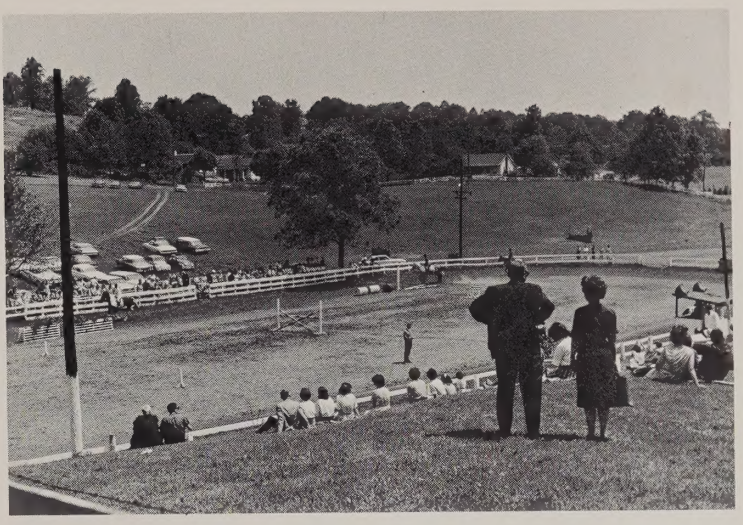
A Queen is crowned.

Horse Show

Busy fingers flew while braiding manes, coats were shined till they gleamed, and clippers buzzed for many hours preceding the Commencement Horse Show. All this work resulted in an impressive performance of polished riders on equally polished mounts. The enthusiastic crowd cheered the forward seat riders over jumps and concentrated silently on the intricate workout patterns required of the saddle seat riders. Trophies were awarded at the climax of the show.



The spectators make themselves comfortable on each side of the course.

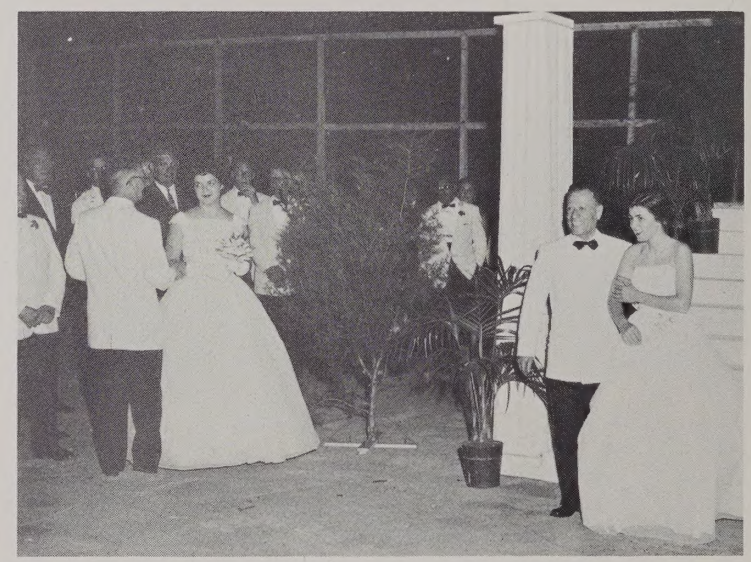
The riders line up for one of the main events.

With a big smile, Betsy Firey receives her trophy.

Graduation–the

During graduation weekend, the Art Department put on an impressive art exhibit. Much work went into polishing the Art Studio and selecting the works to be exhibited. Both sophomore and freshmen works were displayed.

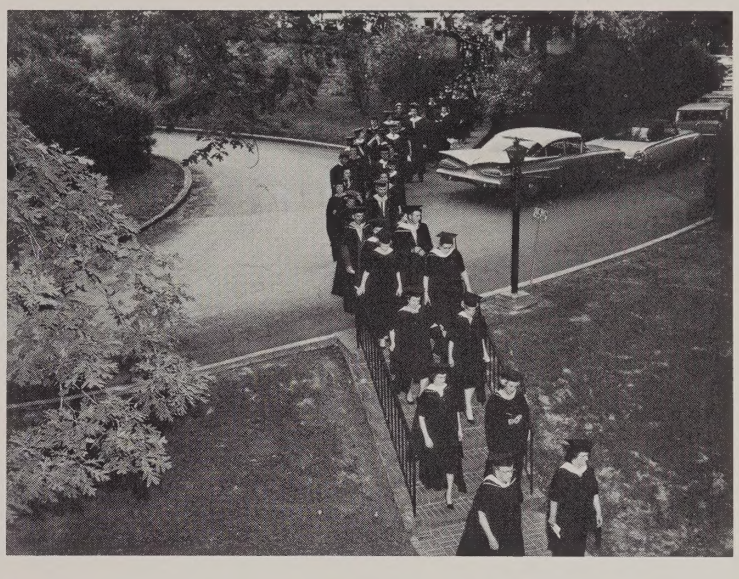
On Saturday night of the final weekend for sophomores, the Graduation Ball was held outside under the stars. The highlight of the evening was the formal presentation of each sophomore, escorted by her father.



The smorgasbord, one of the commencement occasions, was a favorite with everyone, especially our fathers and dates. No one will forget the vast assortment of food or the friendly atmosphere it gave us in which to meet each other's parents.

Long-Awaited Moment

On Sunday, the day of graduation, the faculty members led the procession to the Sylvan Theater. The hoods they wore represented many different universities from all over the country. We sophomores followed the faculty in the procession.



As we walked down the hill toward the Sylvan Theater, each of us was filled with a feeling of achievement that we had successfully completed two years of college, but we were saddened by the thought of leaving our friends.

With parents and friends gathered on the lawn, we heard the graduation address; and then each one of us went forward to receive her diploma which signified the end of her life at Sullins, but a beginning of things to come.

"These became part of that child who went forth every day, and who now goes, and will always go forth every day."
